For the milestone C, we chose the framework from Team30, our team wrote 3 data plugins and 3 analysis plugins for this framework. Overall, this framework had little bugs and their documentation and piazza support did a pretty good job.

It was a little hard to get started. We posted several questions about how to implement plugins, because we have different concepts of using user information data. They are using at most three set of AnalyzedData , which can be analyzed at once. We now think it is very novel and efficient to do this way. But then we did not have any clue but to ask on piazza. They answered very quickly and correctly.

In a word, thanks you the team30 members, your framework is excellent and you did a great support job.
